

2020 ORME Partnership Award

Background

The Harry Orme, MD Partnership Award was established in 2013 to recognize a Patient Family Advisor and Healthcare Professional team whose authentic partnership has resulted in genuine patient family centered care practice and culture. In this survey, we want to hear why you think the nominees demonstrate Dr. Harry Orme's vision of patient partnerships in system design, evaluation and improvement.

About Dr. Harry Orme

Dr. Harry Orme, or "Huggable Harry" as he was affectionately known, served as the founding Medical Director at Miller Children's Hospital in Long Beach, CA. Throughout his extensive career, Dr. Orme valued the contribution and engagement of the families of the children he treated, always greeting everyone he encountered with warmth, setting the stage for respectful partnership. As Medical Director, Dr. Orme created a culture of respect, dignity and support and embodied the clinician-patient partnership. To honor his vision, leadership and commitment to Patient Family Centered Care practice, the Orme Partnership Award was established at the PFCC Conference in 2013. Though Dr. Orme passed away last year, we will honor his legacy by continuing to celebrate partnership in health systems.

Nominations will be reviewed by a panel of PFCC practice experts and evaluated on the criteria below. Selections will be announced mid-July 2020. Awardees will be recognized virtually on the 10th Annual PFCC Conference September 21, 2020. Recipients are encouraged to attend the 2020 PFCC Conference.
